BASIC INFORMATION

A coding classicist? Who would have thought! Turns out ancient languages and coding languages have a lot in common: being comfortable with being confused and a willingness to consult the docs! Web development gives me the opportunity to learn something new and to challenge myself to push my knowledge every day.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Developer, Loyalty One (Current)

Develop and maintain enterprise software in Java, Spring, and ATG. Collaborate with other developers, work in agile software development environment, and use digital Kanban tools and version control.

Freelance Web Developer (2017 - 2018)

Work on exciting projects for various clients using Ruby, Rails, JavaScript, Node.js, React, and HTML / CSS.

Researcher, York University (2010-Present)

Organize large projects and balance conflicting deadlines and priorities, regularly produce content, speak at major conferences about my research, strong work ethic, attention to detail, time management, and ability to work independently. Research Languages: Latin, Ancient Greek, German, French, Italian, Spanish
